

Criminal Justice

Department Overview

Established more than 30 years ago by a former police officer, Langara's Department of Criminal Justice offers two diplomas. The Diploma in Criminal Justice is highly regarded by those who recruit police officers, corrections staff, and court service employees such as sheriffs. The Diploma in Criminology is intended for students wishing to complete two years of university-transferable credits before transferring to a Bachelor's program at SFU, UBC or other institutions.

Self-Study

Criminal Justice launched its program review in academic year 2020/21 with a Self-Study. Melissa Roberts was the primary Self-Study writer on behalf of the rest of the department's faculty. Additional support was provided by:

- Jim Bowers (Division Chair, Community Programs)
- Elizabeth Barbeau (Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences and Community Programs)
- Pennie Poon (Manager, Office of Academic Quality Assurance)
- Sunita Wiebe (Director, Office of Academic Quality Assurance)
- Institutional Research analysts

Data sources for the Self-Study included:

- Institutional Research-compiled student administrative data (e.g., headcounts, retention, satisfaction)
- Student survey
- Alumni survey
- Faculty survey

The Self-Study was completed in June 2022.

External Review

Criminal Justice's external review took place on July 6, 2022. The External Review Team consisted of:

- Colin Mills, Geography and Geology, Langara (External Review Chair)
- Constable Binita Cieslar, RCMP
- Sheri Fabian, PhD, School of Criminology, Simon Fraser University

Action Plan Goals

In response to the Self-Study and External Review, Criminal Justice created an Action Plan with these goals:

- Goal 1: Improve student experience into, through, and beyond our programs.
- Goal 2: Engage in a comprehensive review of the curriculum.
- Goal 3: Revitalize the program advisory committee.
