

Langara Web Application FAQ

How do I access the Langara Web Application?

New applicants or applicants returning to complete their application can access the web application on Langara's public website:

<http://www.langara.bc.ca/admissions/apply-to-langara/index.html>

Current Langara students with access to myLangara can access the web application by selecting the Admissions link on their Student tab.

When do I have to pay my application fee?

New applicants are required to pay their application fee prior to submitting the web application. Only completed applications (with appropriate fees paid) will be processed by the Admissions unit.

Current Langara students with access to myLangara are not required to pay the application fee in the web application.

What about applying through ApplyBC?

The ApplyBC link previously on the Langara website has been removed but applicants can still apply to us using ApplyBC if they prefer. They can do so by going directly to the ApplyBC website. The new Langara application has not changed any of the functionality of ApplyBC; the only change is that we no longer offer a link on the Langara website.

Where can I find the paper application?

PDF versions of the domestic and international applications can be found on the Apply to Langara page:

<http://www.langara.bc.ca/admissions/apply-to-langara/index.html>

How do I create a temporary application ID and password?

If you are accessing the web application for the first time, you are asked to create an ID and password before beginning the application. Your temporary application ID can be combination of letters and/or numbers and is case-sensitive; you have maximum of 9 characters for the ID. The password can be any combination of letters and/or numbers to a maximum of 6 characters.

This temporary ID and password can be used to access your application at a later date.

What if I am not ready to pay the fee and submit my application?

Applicants can save and return to their Langara application by using the "Returning Applicant" link on the Apply to Langara page and using the temporary ID and password they created when they first started the application process.

What do I do if submitted an application last week and want to apply to another program or term?

Best thing would be to call and speak with Admissions Assistant or Admissions Advisor. Depending on what you want to do, we can advise you on the best way to get you going in the right direction.

When will I hear from Langara about my application?

Langara Admissions will send an email within 3 business days of submitting your web application; at that time, you will get information on your current application status as well as additional information on required documents as needed. All admissions related emails will be sent to the email address indicated in your application.

I am an International student; can I use the web application?

Yes! The web application asks you to identify if you are a domestic student or an international student. Once you answer this, you can complete the web application. International students who are working with Agents can provide the name and contact information of their Agent, and also access and print the required Agent consent form through the web application so that it can be faxed to the admissions office. Applicants working with Agents must provide a signed consent form authorizing Langara to contact the Agent before Langara can send application information to the Agent.

I am applying under a special citizen status (Refugee, Diplomat, Exchange); can I use the web application?

International students applying for special immigration status should apply using the paper application to ensure that the correct fees are applied at the time of application. The paper application can be downloaded and printed from the Apply to Langara page: <http://www.langara.bc.ca/admissions/apply-to-langara/index.html>

What if I just submitted my application and now realize that some of the information on my application is wrong?

Please call or email us at admissions@langara.bc.ca with your corrections and we will help you sort it out. Once an application is submitted, you cannot update the information from the web.

What if I can't remember my application ID or PIN?

Contact the Registrar and Enrolment Service office at (604)323-5241; one of our staff can help you find your password.
