

Joshua Antonio

An experienced leader, Joshua has extensive experience in the education sector. He has worked 5 years for a Japanese ESL edu-tech start-up and 5 years with Zuit, a coding school. During his work with Zuit, he advocated for industry-based learning focused on providing learning sessions for the students to know more about their future careers and how to secure jobs within their target industry.

In his 10 years of experience in recruitment and training for start-up companies, he has developed educational programs that bridge the gaps between academic learning and real-world application. By fostering partnerships with industry experts, Joshua has created immersive learning experiences that equip students with the practical skills and knowledge they need to succeed in their chosen fields.

Joshua draws from his 10 years in the education sector to champion better educational policies that puts the students first and foremost. Vote for Joshua to ensure you receive the quality education you deserve.

Brison Chursinoff

As a full-time student at Langara College for over two years, I have heard and understood concerns of my fellow classmates—who are as passionate about learning at the College as I am—regarding the transferability of courses into other post-secondary institutions and the importance of diverse assessment and evaluation opportunities beyond the traditional pencil-and-paper exams.

As a student in the Department of Geography and Geology and Vice President of the newly formed Langara Geography and Urban Studies Club, I believe my experience in coordinating department-related events, communicating with instructors and department chairs regarding course offerings, and participating in my department's Quality Assurance External Review has equipped me well to represent the student population in a diligent and well-informed manner.

I believe students at Langara College deserve an Education Council student representative who understands and feels the importance and impact of diverse learning methods, as well as one who can relate to the struggle of finding out many of the unique and interesting courses Langara offers cannot fulfil prerequisite requirements for degrees at other post-secondary institutions.

Animesh Moudgil

My name is Animesh Moudgil, and I'm running for student representative education council. Through my volunteer work on campus and experience giving orientations, I've had the privilege of helping many students navigate college life. These interactions have given me a deep understanding of our needs and the challenges we face. I also work off-campus as a sales associate, where I've developed strong communication and time management skills, which will help me serve you effectively.

If elected, I will advocate for initiatives that enhance student support, from academic resources to mental health services, and ensure our voices are heard in important decisions. I'm committed to creating a more inclusive and supportive environment for all students. I kindly ask for your vote to help make a positive impact on our campus.
