Athena Garedakis
Kinesiology | UBC Transfer

I am very happy that I chose to start my post-secondary degree at Langara College and later transfer to a bigger university at UBC to complete my bachelor's. Langara helped shape me for success in my academics, and I was able to be part of a community where I created meaningful friendships and strong connections with my professors."

REGULAR STUDIES

These programs prepare you for career opportunities and help you reach your education goals.

Open enrolment programs are open to students who meet general admission requirements and give you the flexibility to explore different subject areas.

Limited enrolment programs have limited seats and often have additional admission requirements.

CONTINUING STUDIES (CS)

Continuing Studies programs provide flexible study options to help you advance your career, pivot to a new field, or expand your knowledge and skills.

They are responsive to the changing and competitive labour market and are non-transferable to university.

Byron Hon

Associate of Arts in Geography

My experience at Langara was wonderful. Due to the smaller class sizes, I had very attentive and supportive instructors from whom I was able to seek help after classes or during office hours. Student services such as counselling also provided ample support towards course planning, university transition, and general life advice."

Ignite innovation.

Langara's Applied Research Centre (ARC) offers paid, hands-on research opportunities that go beyond the classroom. Collaborate across disciplines, tackle real-world challenges, and build job-ready skills, all while expanding your professional network.

Join a diverse community of thinkers, creators, and changemakers. Recent government funding focuses on natural product innovation, data analytics, bioinformatics, and community and Indigenous-led projects.

Kyra Janot
Biology Instructor

"Recently we've seen some extreme weather events that likely impacted the health of intertidal organisms. Receiving funds from government and ARC helped us survey local intertidal zones and collect baseline data so that we can better predict future changes in organisms, such as seaweed and their surrounding ecosystems, due to climate change."

One of the standout aspects of the program was how personal and knowledgeable the instructors were, especially when guiding students in building meaningful/respectful connections with the communities we were serving during my practicum placement. The innovative and caring ways community projects were presented were just some of the many things I admired about the program and have influenced me greatly."
