Course Description, Prerequisites, Corequisites:

This course is designed to introduce students to the concepts and methods of reflective practice, niche recreation specialties, and self-directed learning. Students will "learn how to learn" from their own professionally-related experience and from the experience of others. With faculty supervision, students will develop self-directed learning plans to build their skills, knowledge, and attitudes in recreation specialty areas of their choice. Students will begin to develop and tailor "portfolios of experiences and learning" that can form the basis of their future professional development and life-long learning. Graded S/U.

Registration in this course is restricted to students admitted to the Bachelor of Recreation Management and the Recreation Leadership Diploma.
